BALFOUR AND MACEDONIA

WRITES LETTER TO ARCH-BISHOP OF CANTERBURY

Says He Has Entire Sympathy with the Feelings of Horror and Indignation—Mohammedans Fear Christian Italy.

London, Sept. 25.—Premier Balfour, in a letter to the archbishop of Canterbury, discusses the Macedonian situation. The letter is in reply to the archbishop's action in drawing attention to the growing unpopularity among church men and the apparent apathy of the powers, "while unnumbered atrocities are perpetrated in Macedonia." Balfour says he is in entire sympathy with the feelings of horror and indignation. "We have not to deal with simple misgovernment or oppression," he says, "but with a policy of deliberate and systematic oppression. The Christian population of Macedonia is being exterminated by differences of race and religion, and in addition to the ill-effects of a corrupt and inefficient administration and by ill-considered and unprincipled military and political action, we have to reckon with all the ill-effects which in a population not imbued with western ideas of humanity, racial antagonisms and sects do not scruple to inflict on another."

"It was a matter of congratulation when Russia and Austria, acting with authority of Europe, proposed to press a scheme of reforms which, while lacking in theoretical perfection, came within the limits of practical politics, and would, if more earnestly pressed by the Porte, and more frankly accepted by the Macedonian population, have spared the world the horrors it has since witnessed."

"Neither of these conditions were fulfilled. The Porte, as usual, was dilatory and failed to see that a policy of humanity was the policy of wisdom. Revolutionists have deliberately done their best to drive the Turks to excesses and furnish him with an excuse for deferring the execution of reforms, meeting horrors with horrors and brutality with brutality for the deliberate purpose of driving the Turks to crimes against the innocent and thus play upon the sympathies of the world. Such methods as these are no more morally tolerable than the misgovernment which is their excuse."

Coming to the question of the attitude of Great Britain, Balfour points out that Russia, Austria and Turkey cannot be indifferent to territorial redistribution in the peninsula, while Greece, Bulgaria, Serbia and Roumania are all interested in the fate of the province whose Christian population is made up from all their nationalities.

These external complications are doubled by internal ones, because of religious differences, Mohammedans fearing Christian rule, while exarchists and Christians persecute patriarchists. Greeks, who are patriarchists, would sooner find protection under the rule of the sultan than be left to fight the matter out with Bulgarians, who are exarchists.

"It is with a problem such as this, that one has to deal," says Balfour, "and I do not but believe the best hope of dealing with it lies in continued co-operation of Russia and Austria, strengthened with the support and aided by advice of other signatories of the treaty of Berlin."

SHOT INTO THE MOB.

A Tennessee Sheriff Attempts to Protect the Life of his Prisoner.

Lynchburg, Tenn., Sept. 25.—Sheriff George Davidson, in attempting to save the life of a negro early this morning, fired into a mob which was assaulting the jail, wounding a man whose name is unknown. The sheriff and aides were overpowered and the jail entered. The much wanted negro, Allen Small, was shot to death in the corridor. The mob was composed of about twenty-five people. Small was under arrest on the charge of assaulting Mrs. Eliza Eggleston.

INVESTED THE MONEY.

Denver, Sept. 25.—The News to day says: Fr. Callahan, pastor of the cathedral parish and in charge of the finances of the parish and for building a new cathedral, is about $20,000 short in his accounts. The entire amount of the cathedral fund, $50,000, has been invested in mining stocks by Fr. Callahan, according to the News, and at least half of the total sum has been lost through a depression of stocks. There is no suspicion that Callahan profited personally from the affair.

Cripple Creek, Sept. 25.—After a telephone conversation between Governor Peabody and Adjutant General Bell an order was issued to Brigadier General Chase, commanding the First brigade of the national guard, to immediately comply with the decree of Judge Seels and release the four prisoners as commanded. A few minutes thereafter the prisoners were released from the guard house and went to their homes.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

The Volume of Trade Large—Railway Earnings Continue to Show Gains.

New York, Sept. 25.—Dun says: Notwithstanding several unsatisfactory features the volume of trade continues large and the distribution of merchandise presses shipping facilities. Announcement of concerted effort to restrict the production of pig iron indicates supplies have begun to accumulate. Railway earnings continue to show gains, September thus far exceeding last year's by 8.7 per cent and those of 1901 by 17.2 per cent. Traffic blockades have occurred to some extent, although the movement of farm products is still unreasonably small. Enforced idleness in the iron and steel industry is more than offset by resumption of spindles at the cotton mills, and there is great activity at footwear factories. Lower prices for leading agricultural staples indicate a general belief in improved crop prospects. The jobbing trade is still making good comparisons with previous years and while the zenith has been passed in fall dry goods, it is still a satisfactory season. At many important points the weather has been more propitious for retail trade and collections are fairly prompt considering the tightness of the money market.

The demand for finished iron and steel is restricted by uncertainty regarding quotations and until a more settled condition exists there will be no incentive to place contracts liberally, although it is known much business is under consideration. Owing to demoralization the condition of manufacture supplies of pig iron have accumulated and it is now generally agreed among leading producers that curtailment of the blast furnace output is necessary.

Failures this week 232 in the United States, against 207 last year.

Bradstreet says: Reports of conservatism and even caution in the fall and winter trade testify to the absence of the spur of insistent demand which a year ago gave the selling side such advantage. Quietness down of the demand has become more manifest in iron and steel, where plans for the restriction of furnace output are being discussed.

Railway earnings returns are still highly favorable, those roads reporting for the first half of September showing a gain of 10 per cent over a year ago.

Relatively the best reports come from the hearts of the northwest, due to better weather and crop conditions. Eastern advices are of fair trade, but the quietness in general business is noted in New York. Lumber is rather quieter at the west. The boot and shoe trade is favorably quiet and will be quieter at the west.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week 3,650,000 bushels, against 5,077,000 this week last year; for twelve weeks of the year 35,215,000 bushels, against 59,650,000 in 1902.

Corn exports 729,000 bushels, against 75,000 a year ago; for twelve weeks of the year 11,905,000, against 302,000 in 1902.

WILL HANG DEC. 18.

Cynthiana, Ky., Sept. 25.—Curtis Jett was to day sentenced by Judge Osborne to be hanged Dec. 18 for the killing of James Co-krell. Judge Blanton, Jett's attorney, filed paper giving grounds for a new trial, preparatory to carrying the case to the court of appeals.

UNITED STATES STEEL STOCKS.

New York, Sept. 25.—United States Steel stocks dropped to a new low record on the stock exchange to day. The whole list was weak in sympathy. The Evening Post says to day that after an investigation by unusually trustworthy interests announcement was made that there is not a single stock exchange house in Wall street that is in the slightest way embarrassed and that the situation is not in the least dangerous.

TO INVESTIGATE.

Pittsburg, Sept. 25.—A special convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers to investigate the charges against President Theodore Shaffer, preferred by the Niles, Ohio, lodge, met here to day. The investigation will probably be concluded by Saturday.

Vienna, Sept. 25.—It is reported the Russian note which was handed to the Bulgarian government to night has caused much excitement in Sofia. The note recognizes Turkey as premier power in the Balkans and admits her right to suppress rebellion in her own territory as she thinks best.

MRS. DAVIS NO WORSE.

Buffalo, Sept. 25.—This morning Dr. Charles G. Stockton authorized the statement that Mrs. Jefferson Davis, who is seriously ill at Castle, is holding her own, but could not say she was out of danger.

Mattoon, Ill., Sept. 25.—Mayor Menke, of Mattoon, was indicted by the grand jury to day upon twenty-nine counts, charging him with malfeasance and misfeasance in office. He was arrested and later released on $2,500 bonds. His trial is set for next week.

WANT WARSHIPS WITHDRAWN

THE PORTE EXPRESSES A WISH TO THAT EFFECT.

A Sensational Rumor that Bulgaria has Sent an Ultimatum to Turkey, but the Foreign Office Declares It Untrue.

Constantinople, Sept. 25.—The porte has expressed a wish for the withdrawal of American warships, now off Beirut. "No settlement of the questions pending between the United States and Turkey can be proceeded with," it is thought here the United States will not consent to withdraw her ships. Official circles take a calmer view of the Balkan situation. Advances from Bulgaria point to a relaxation of the tension.

Sofia, Sept. 25.—Sensational rumors are current here that Bulgaria has sent an ultimatum to Turkey announcing that unless satisfactory assurances are received before noon to day the Ottoman troops will be withdrawn immediately from the frontier. Bulgaria will forthwith mobilize her whole army. The reports are denied at the foreign office, which declares that no such ultimatum has been sent.

London, Sept. 25.—It is stated at the foreign office to day that the British ambassador at Constantinople has been instructed to inform the porte that neither Turkey nor Bulgaria must expect support from the British government in resisting openly or secretly the execution of reforms proposed for Macedonia.

Constantinople, Sept. 25.—The composition of the mixed commission to carry out the program of reforms in Macedonia was officially announced to day. The commission will sit temporarily at Mostar. An trade has been issued ordering the authorities to obey the commission's regulations.

London, Sept. 25.—According to a dispatch in the Mail from Vienna, the Austrian emperor has decided to fight if the Hungarians push their opposition to his wishes to the extreme. The Austrian war minister and a number of officers have already gone to Hungary.

MEN WITH MONEY.

Killed While on way to Pay Employes by Explosion of Dynamite.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Samuel T. Ferguson, of the Ferguson Construction company of Pittsburg, was instantly killed and his secretary, Charles L. Martin, of Cincinnati, fatally injured this afternoon on the Middletown road, fifteen miles from here. They were driving in a buggy, carrying $5,000 cash with which to pay off men employed on the construction work along the line of the Wabash railroad, when suddenly an explosion of dynamite in the roadway literally tore the rig to pieces, killed Ferguson outright and threw Martin 500 feet and tearing his left arm almost from the socket. It is learned two men placed the dynamite in the road for the purpose of killing Ferguson and had arranged to explode it by means of an electric battery. The satchel containing the money is missing. Two suspects are under arrest in the camp of the construction company, but farmers of the section who are scouring the country for traces of the murderers believe they have one of them at bay in an abandoned coal mine.

The force of the explosion was terrific. A great hole was torn in the ground, the horses literally blown to fragments and the buggy torn to pieces. About thirty feet north of the spot where the explosion occurred Ferguson's body was found terribly torn, while nearby was Martin frightfully wounded. The dynamite was undoubtedly fired by electricity, as a copper wire was found extending from a hole made by the explosion to the bushes where the battery was located.

ESTABLISH PROTECTORATE.

London, Sept. 25.—The Paris correspondent of the Mail asserts on unimpeachable authority that Great Britain and Spain have agreed to the establishment of a French protectorate over Morocco. A strip of land along the coast will be declared neutral in order to avoid international complications over fortified ports.

DEATHS.

Denver, Sept. 25.—Attorney Allen B. Seaman was found dead in bed at his home this morning of heart disease. Seaman was born in Shipman, Macoupin county, Ill., in 1862. He graduated at the Monmouth, Ill., college and was married to Miss Jennie Babcock, of that city. He was chairman of the Colorado Republican state committee for several years.

BANK CLEARINGS.

New York, Sept. 25.—The statement compiled by Bradstreet shows the total bank clearings of the principal cities of the United States for the week $1,774,717,471, a decrease of 2.1 per cent compared with the corresponding week last year.

SET A NEW MARK.

Major Delmar, the Trotting Gelding, Equals the World's Record of 2:00.

New York, Sept. 25.—At 4:45 Major Delmar came out for his trial against the world's record and his own. On the first trial he started out smoothly, but broke at the end of the first quarter. Back he came and with a running drawing wind breaking sulky before him, started on what was to be a record mile. The gelding passed the quarter post in 30 1/2 seconds, increasing his speed down the back stretch, moving with marvelous regularity. Reaching the half in 50 seconds, Delmar trotted around the turn without a falter, finishing the three-quarters in 1:20, with the world's record his if he maintained the speed. The gelding, however, could not maintain the pace, but trotting the last quarter in 31 and equalled the world's record of 2:00, and set a new mark for trotting geldings and himself.

ARTIC EXPLORERS.

Ziegler Expedition Heard From—Absence of Animal Life Noted.

New York, Sept. 25.—William Ziegler has received a letter from Captain Fiala, commanding the steamer American, aboard of which is the Ziegler Arctic expedition. The letter is dated July 20 and tells of meeting with immense quantities of ice, notes strange absence of animal life and says many dead birds were seen upon cakes of floating ice, and they had not seen a polar bear. It is thought there must have been some unusual disturbance of nature in that part of the polar regions to account for these conditions and the report of Mr. Fiala tells of efforts to find lead in the ice and of failure of returning on the course and resuming the search for lead. He expressed the opinion the absence of animal life indicates that there is either an immense field of ice north or lots of open water. Everything aboard the vessel was harmonious and all enjoying good health.

GOMPERS TALKS

Washington, Sept. 25.—The executive council of the Federation of Labor advised this afternoon, subject to a call, without taking further action in the case of William A. Miller, assistant foreman in the government printing office. The matter was referred to a sub-committee. President Gompers said to night the subject did not come up for discussion in any of the meetings to day. He expects, however, the sub-committee will make a report at an early day and action then will be taken by the council. Gompers remarked, laughingly, that nothing revolutionary about the Miller case might be anticipated. Gompers refused to say whether the sub-committee had authority to take up the Miller case with President Roosevelt. While the council has the Miller case under consideration the statement is made that no other body will have authority to take it up with the president.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 25.—The favorites swept the card at the getaway day of the Grand circuit meeting, but Tom Keene was the only horse to win without a desperate struggle. The second race, won by Dan T, developed into the fastest trotting event of the year. The first heat was won by Rhythmic in 2:00 1/2, record breaking time for the horse and the year. Rhythmic lead to the second mile until collared by Dan T in the stretch. Then the blind horse gave it up. Rhythmic, by breaking, put himself and Dan T out of the going in the third heat, and Charles Herr, under the whip, nosed out Pereno. Geers made a sweeping drive with Dan T through the stretch in the fourth heat and beat out Rhythmic by two lengths.

THE BANKERS' ASSOCIATION

LISTENS TO ADDRESSES BY ROBERTS AND SHAW.

The Latter Cites Statistics Showing the Proportions of the Various Classes of Money in this Country.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Ellis H. Roberts, treasurer of the United States, who is attending a joint convention of the Maryland and District of Columbia Bankers' association, to night delivered an address before that convention. He said that the "current financial discussion deals in much the larger part with national bank notes. They constitute less than one-sixth of our stock of money, $48,857,973 out of $2,708,635,662, and no legislation can change that ratio very materially. Gold on the other hand furnishes $1,267,733,949, or nearly half of our stock and it grew nearly $12,000,000 last month."

Roberts cited statistics showing the proportions of the various classes of money in this country. He also showed that our treasury holds 39-10 times the amount of gold of the Bank of England; 38-10 times as much as the Imperial German bank and lacks only eight millions of being equal to that of both England and France. His comparison of the basis of the finances of other nations with that of the United States was favorable to the latter. Statistics of the growth of the official treasury of several European countries were cited to show that the United States had made the greatest percentage of increase. He declared the strength of our circulating medium and crown, as well as the cornerstone of our financial system, lies in gold currency. In conclusion he said: "Certain timid souls look upon our real money as a Samson whose locks at some time may be shorn by a Philistine Bellah and its strength clipped away. Now this Bellah takes the form of rush to the treasury of United States notes. Again she appears in the garb of a secretary-treasury using silver for official payments, and finally she becomes congress indulging in wild legislation. If mathematics is good for anything it proves greenbacks cannot be procured in volume enough to be more than a spray beating on Gibraltar. Every secretary will find silver is less with his control for actual use than gold is; he cannot make silver current for large payments. As for congress, its power is vast; but with an inflow of $80,000,000 a year of gold into the treasury no act of legislation can stop the majestic force. But credit is based upon our gold and it is possible to inflate and exploit it to a dangerous degree. Recent chronicles are not without illustrations. This process of accentuation and its rapidity and extent, present the real problem of the situation. Wisdom cries aloud and will be here sooner or later, and better soon than late, that it is not safe to lift credit so mountain high that flying machines will be needed to operate in its thin atmosphere. Meanwhile, and I believe for a time, the nation's prosperity rests on a steadfast foundation."

Newport News, Sept. 25.—Secretary Shaw in a speech before the Maryland and District of Columbia Bankers' association took a decidedly optimistic view of business prospects. The secretary said: "We either must issue more bonds of the basis of the national bank circulation or provide some substitute. The present volume of government bonds," he said, "is insufficient and a recent demand for $7,000,000 government bonds had advanced the price to a figure that made national bank circulation unprofitable. But," he added, "any currency system adopted must provide for a complete exchangeability of every form of money, so that our people never would have cause to look twice at bills presented in regular course of business. Speaking of the functions of a bank he said its success should not be measured by its dividends, but by its solvency, conservatism and promptness to respond to its customers' legitimate needs. Its reserves, in his opinion, should be available for use in times of emergency and were not intended to be buried and never touched."

"Recent deposits of public money and offers to redeem bonds had not been made, he went on, with the expectation of aiding the stock market, but solely to assure the business men of the country there would be no money famine this autumn. "The prosperity of the American people," Shaw said, "is not measured, by price of stocks and bonds, but by output of the farms and factories and the profitable employment of labor."

Chicago, Sept. 25.—The Chicago & Northwestern railroad has signed an agreement with its 8,000 employees in its car and locomotive repair shops, which grants the recognition of the union and provides for a union steward in each shop. It gives the men an increase in wages, varying from one cent to two and a half cents an hour.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 25.—The marriage of Miss Ruth Bryan and W. H. Leavitt, of Newport, will take place Saturday evening, Oct. 3, at the Fairview home of the bride.

PLANS OF ROBBERS

Frustrated by Clever Engineer on New York and Hartford Road.

Woonsocket, R. I., Sept. 25.—Because the trained eye of Engineer Boss recognized in the awkward swing of a lantern the work of a novice, he pulled the throttle wide open and drove his train swiftly by a danger signal set dead against him and frustrated what is believed to have been an attempt to hold up the train at Plummer's Ledge, a lonely spot a mile north of Whittin's Station, on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, last night. The facts were not made public until to night, our cars full of passengers, unconscious of the peril met and avoided, were landed safely in Providence, and the engineer, who had assumed an awful responsibility, repaired to the office of Superintendent Whaley to report he had matched his judgment against iron-clad orders of the road and won.

Near Plummer Ledge a green signal indicating a clear track was suddenly changed to red. Boss set air brakes. As he did so a lantern was swung awkwardly across the track. Noticing this Boss opened the throttle and the train rushed by the danger signal. Leaning out of his cab, Boss saw a man with a lantern jump from the track, two other men standing on a ladder holding a stationary light and tampering with the signal, while seven other men were lined up along the roadbed. Authorities are searching for the supposed train robbers.

DISRUPTS CONVENTION

Samuel Parks Causes Split in the International Association of Iron Workers.

Kansas City, Sept. 25.—Samuel Parks, walking delegate from New York city, caused a split in the convention of the International Association of Iron Workers here to day in a fight to unseat Daniel Brophy, delegate from Union No. 2 of that city, but who held a proxy from Scranton, Pa. The charge was made by the Parks delegation that Brophy's credentials had been forged, and to prevent a free-for-all fight that seemed imminent, President Buchanan adjourned the convention within an hour and without waiting to put the question. Later when Buchanan, remaining away from the hall, refused to reconvene the convention, the Parks crowd organized a session, placing Second Vice President Warden, of New Haven, in the chair, and unseated Brophy. President Buchanan declares that the acts of the rump convention is unconstitutional, and Brophy says he will ignore the Parks crowd and take his seat whenever Buchanan again assumes the chair.

The Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre colliery will work as usual.

TWO PEOPLE DIE IN FLAMES

IN THE HOTEL BRUNSWICK AT ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Fifty Guests in the House at the Time Fire Started—All Accounted for but Four—List of Injured Large.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Two lives were lost and several persons injured in a fire that destroyed the hotel Brunswick early to day. There were between forty and fifty guests in the house at the time the fire started and besides the dead, all of them except four are accounted for this morning. It is believed the others escaped. The hotel register gives the names of two persons who perished as Mr. and Mrs. Hardwood, Concord, N. H.

There were many narrow escapes, a number of the guests saving themselves by jumping from windows. The structure was of three stories.

Mrs. Clarence W. Page, wife of the proprietor of the hotel, was slightly burned about the head and a portion of her hair was singed off.

Two brothers of Mrs. Page, George and William C. Hug, were hurt, the former suffering a sprained back and the latter receiving an injury to one leg by jumping from the third story to an adjoining building. An employee of the taconia car company jumped from the third story windows and landed on the wires of the street railway. He sustained only minor injuries.

The property loss is estimated at $15,000.

COULDN'T SELL THEM

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Sept. 25.—Captain Patterson, superintendent of the Grace gold mine, arrived from Michipicott with gold bricks valued at several thousand dollars, which were turned over to the Consolidated Lake Superior company, owners of the mine. Captain Patterson endeavored to make arrangements whereby the consignment of gold could be converted into cash to pay the miners, but failed. He made a proposition to operate the mine thirty days and agreed to pay the indebtedness of the mine, together with all wages due employees without cost of the company. This was refused.

Attorney Dicknell, of Toronto, arrived this afternoon to take charge of the Consolidated company's works in the interest of the Central Trust company for Speyer Co., trustees. He said he was clothed with power to do as he pleased with the works, but declined to state what will be done.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—The directors of the Consolidated Lake Superior company met this afternoon and adopted a resolution favoring the plan of reorganization devised by the stockholders. Attorneys representing every interest of the stockholders also met to day. The meeting was harmonious and steps were taken to protect every interest of stockholders. It is said plans were laid for bringing injunction proceedings to prevent Speyer & Co. selling on Oct. 1 the collateral they hold for $5,000,000 the bankers loaned the company.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—The announcement was made here to day that at the instance of Speyer & Co., of New York, B. F. Frackenthal, Jr., president of the Thomas Iron company of Easton, Pa., had been appointed receiver of the Canadian subsidiary plants of the Consolidated Lake Superior company.

SETTLE DIFFERENCES

Cleveland, Sept. 25.—Negotiations for the settlement of differences between the American Association of Masters and Pilots came to a successful conclusion late this afternoon. The Pittsburg Steamboat company receded from its position relative to Capt. Frank Hae, of the steamer Clemson, and his mates who are now members of the association. The remaining grievances of the men were waived for the present and arrangements made for the holding of a meeting after the close of the present season of navigation. All vessels will be put in commission immediately.

HUMOR OF THE HOUR

Don't Use the Yard.
"Pretty fair sized yard for the city," commented the country visitor as she looked out of one of the windows of the lower flat in a three flat house, "but I guess you don't use it much."
"No," returned the city relative; "I don't use it at all."
"That's foolish," said the country visitor. "No one else seems to use it."
"No one else does."
"Of course, it's in bad shape now, but you might fix it up a little, and it would be a splendid place for your children. Outdoor life, you know."
"I did have it fixed up."
"Really?"
"I paid $8 to have it cleaned, have the grass cut and have the whole place put in the best of order."
"Didn't it make your flat seem pleasant?"
"Well, no. I sat out there with the children the first afternoon, but the next morning the woman in the flat above put out a croquet set, and her bachelor boarder strung a hammock. Then the woman in the top flat tried to lay out a tennis court, and during the quarrel that followed as to which of the two women had the better right to the yard I retreated into the house. Then the woman next door brought over some old boxes to make a doll house for her children, and I was completely crowded out."
"But they don't use it now?"
"No. In forty-eight hours it looked worse than before, and now they all look at me as though I were a rather small kind of person for not keeping it fixed up. A nice yard in a city—well, I want an eight foot iron fence around any I may have, with bulldogs inside."—Chicago Post.

PIONEER DAYS.

Interesting Story of an Early Settler.

A Journal reporter had a conversation recently with Uncle Septimus Stevenson and gradually drew out the old gentleman regarding early days, though the scribe didn't dare ask any questions for fear Mr. Stevenson would suspect an intention to write him up, and his well known modesty would preclude any desire for notoriety, so what was secured was heard in a somewhat disconnected way and no notes were taken at the time, for that would have looked suspicious. As nearly as can be recalled, his story was somewhat as follows, and when he sees it in print he will kindly consider the writer taking a vacation several hundred miles distant and not likely to be back for some time to come. The experiences of the brave men and women of those days are always interesting and when from men so respected as is Mr. Stevenson they come with double attraction:

"I have attended a great many gatherings of old settlers and to tell the plain truth, I don't take much stock in the thrilling tales we hear of the hardships of long ago. Of course, we had no such things as are enjoyed to day, but we never knew anything about them and so didn't miss them. Then, too, we were hearty and strong took lots of exercise in the open air and enjoyed ourselves fully as well as the people of the present day. I was born in Kentucky and was one of a good many children. My father owned slaves and each one of the children had a servant for waiter and we even would have a drink of water brought us, our shoes removed or put on by them, and in fact, they did pretty much everything else to save us any effort. My father decided that such a way of living wasn't the way to make good citizens, so in 1827 he mounted his horse and started for the wilds of Illinois to see what kind of an opening he could find for himself and family. He decided on Morgan county and bought a farm adjacent one adjoining, and returned and when he arrived home many of the neighbors and friends came in to ascertain what his conclusions were. Two years later we started for our new home and it was a great undertaking. One serious question was the disposition of my father's forty slaves. He wouldn't sell them in the open market and he couldn't bring them along, and at that time their liberty would have been of little use to them, as they would have had hard work to get in, so he gave them a year or two in which to decide whom they wanted for masters and as fast they made it known he sent a bill of sale, which was the most humane thing he could do, and I know of his selling for $300 hands who would have commanded $2,000 each for the southern market.

Our entire belongings and company made quite a caravan. We took along 150 head of cattle beside sheep and other stock, and with about thirty persons in the party we made quite a formidable appearance. Our live-stock foraged along the way and it took us twenty-five days to make the trip, not quite as rapid as the railroad trains of the present day. Every once in a while we killed a sheep or the way and it tasted good along with other articles of diet. In many places before we could get along we had to "corduroy" the road, and I have no doubt that very few people living now know what that term means, though to those of us who experienced it it means jolted bodies and slow progress. At times the mud was so deep we had to cut down small trees and lay the bodies directly across the track so as to make a solid way for the wagons to pass over, and probably many elderly citizens have traveled over the same kind of roads. Arriving at our Illinois home things looked rather primitive, but we managed to get along very well. Of course we had the usual log house of those early days and no private bed rooms. Our parents had a bedstead in one corner of the main living room and the rest of the numerous family of boys spread their bed out on the floor in front of the fire and slept soundly from dark till daylight, then removed the bed and went to the duties of the day. Everybody was hospitable then and the "latch string was out" to all respectable people and many were entertained by my parents.

Our clothes were homespun and styles changed but little from year to year. What we had was well made and durable and the actual cash expended for living was very little. People though were genuine those times and hypocrisy was regarded as a great and unpardonable sin and naturally unusual.

I well remember the deep snow, though I was a small boy. How the white flakes fell day by day until the mass was three feet deep on a level, and though it was cold and we could get hardly any where, my recollections of the time are pleasant. We had lots of game, for the deer, rabbits and prairie chickens could get about but little and often we found our meat supply stuck in the snow and readily killed. Our sows seemed to know what was coming and they took brush and made for themselves lairs, where they kept their young safe from wolves and freeer from cold than the open. We had an old mare, "Hetty," which I used to ride every morning, carrying a basket of corn for these hogs, and they would come to the opening of their dens and get it as soon as I appeared. Our social life at that time was small, but we were not especially lonesome in my father's family, for there were so many of us.

Two of my brothers went to the Black Hawk war and were in the service some three months, and we came to regard them as genuine veterans. I shall never forget the day they arrived home. Of course they were horseback, and to impress those of us who stayed at home they rode in on a gallop, shouting: "Indians! Indians!"

As I said before, I take no stock in this talk of early hardships, for we had comparatively none. The land was easy to subdue, for we had little forest to clear off, as they had in other parts of the land, and were never molested by Indians, though we saw a few occasionally. Our lives were genuine and hearty; good health, enough plain, wholesome food to eat and clear consciences enabled us to enjoy life very well. Until the recent loss of my wife I enjoyed life as well as a person could ask, and yet the early days would compare favorably with the happiness of the present."

Three-Year Old Child Dies at Athens from Scalding.

Athens, Sept. 25.—The 3-year-old child of Mrs. Mary Rogers, widow of John Rogers, who was killed in the Athens mine horror of last spring, died to day from the effects of injuries sustained two days ago from having been accidentally pushed by another child into a kettle of boiling water.

The accident took place at the home of Charles Wiggins, where the child in company with others was playing. A cauldron of water which was being used for washing clothes was being heated in the yard. A playmate unwittingly pushed the little one into the water.

The entire left side of the child was badly scalded. Death occurred at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

BETTER FOR CORN.

The farmers are fast being relieved of a heavy load of anxiety about the corn crop. Prospects have improved greatly the last ten days. Twenty-five days of September have passed and practically no damage has been done by frost. It has been the consensus of opinion of many farmers that if a killing frost held off till Oct. 1 a large part of the crop would be safe. Ten days ago this seemed too much to expect in the natural order of events. But now with one frost past and a good run of bright days on hand and only a few days needed to mature the bulk of the corn out of the way of frost, the prospect is decidedly more cheerful.

Every warm day counts a great deal in the rescue and the feeling of comparative security is fastening itself upon the producers. In fact, quite a proportion of the corn is now safe. The weather has been and is unusually favorable and optimism is in the air.

CURED HEMORRHOIDS OF THE LUNGS.

"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar and my lungs are now as sound as a bell. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." J. A. Obermeyer, City drug store.

LEAP FOR LIFE.

Edwardsville, Ill., Sept. 25.—Miss Clara Morgan, aged 19, of Burlington, Iowa, who is visiting here, was caught on a railroad trestle while out walking with a 4-year-old daughter of her hostess. The only avenue of escape open was a jump of twenty feet, which Miss Morgan made, holding the child tightly clasped in her arms. She landed uninjured in a clay bank just as the Clover Leaf passenger train rolled over the place from whence she made her leap for life.

One of the most important requirements in a medicine to be given to small children should be that it is pleasant to take. Bad tasting medicines disturb the stomach, destroy the appetite and it is extremely difficult to get children to take them. The pleasant flavor of Re-Go Tonic Laxative Syrup, the certain cure for dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness, pleases the most sensitive persons and is the ideal laxative for young children. 25c. 50c and $1 bottles sold by Lee P. Alcott, druggist.

Avoid serious results of kidney or bladder disorder by taking Foley's Kidney Cure. A. J. Obermeyer, City drug store.

ELEVEN BABIES EVERY HOUR

Increase in Births in Manhattan Alarms Board of Education.

New York, Sept. 25.—There is consternation among the members of the board of education over the assertion in a report of Commissioner of Education Haupt, for the Sixth school district, that the average rate of increase in the number of babies in Manhattan has grown from five to eleven an hour, or to one baby about every five and one-half minutes.

Dr. Haupt as the result of an investigation which the board of education is carrying on to find out what preparation it must make to provide room which the babies of the present will need as pupils of a few years hence.

Dr. Haupt states that he also finds that the death rate for children is falling from one-third to one-tenth, owing to measures for protecting babies from impure milk and insanitary arrangements. He believes that in the main the increase is caused by the tremendous immigration to New York city.

SCALDED TO DEATH.

Owing to the large number of old soldiers who will be in Springfield from all parts of the state during the state fair, there will be a number of reunions in different parts of the city. This is especially true of Tuesday of next week, which will be Soldiers' day. At that time reunion by different regiments will be held as follows:

Second regiment, Illinois volunteer cavalry, room No. 6, house judiciary, third floor, state house.

Eighth regiment, Illinois volunteer infantry, room No. 20 back of senate chamber, third floor.

One Hundred and Fifteenth Illinois volunteer infantry, hall No. 1, Odd Fellows' building. Meeting, Tuesday, Sept. 25, 11 a. m.

Thirty-fifth regiment, Illinois volunteer infantry, state house, room 15, third floor, back of senate chamber. Meeting, Sept. 25.

Seventh regiment, Illinois volunteer cavalry, court house Grand Army hall. Meeting, Tuesday, Sept. 25, 9 o'clock a. m.

Seventy-third regiment, Illinois volunteer infantry, Grand Army hall, court house. Meeting, Tuesday, Sept. 25, afternoon and evening.

Fifty-fourth regiment, Illinois volunteer infantry, state house, room No. 1, third floor, senate judiciary.

AN ACROBATIC MINISTER.

Beardstown, Sept. 25.—Rev. J. H. Waterbury, of this city, who resigned the pastorate of the Methodist church here and joined the ranks of the Congregationalists and later returned to the Methodist fold, has again bolted and will preach at the Congregational church here next Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Waterbury returned to the Methodists and asked forgiveness from the conference and permission to re-enter his pastorate here, but the conference took no action in the matter, and appointed another man to the pastorate here and in the meantime the Congregational church committee waited upon Waterbury, and asked him to take the pastorate of their church.

BELLEVEILLE CHILD BURNED.

Belleveille, Sept. 25.—Walter Iselhardt, the 7-year-old son of John Iselhardt, while at play made a running jump from the porch of his home, southeast of here, and landed in a thirty-gallon kettle of cooking apple butter. He was unaware of the location of the cauldron. The boy's mother rescued him from the kettle, but not until he had sustained burns which later caused him to die in terrible agony.

ACCIDENT AT VIRGINIA.

Virginia, Ill., Sept. 25.—Master Stuart Kessler, while playing in Dr. Humphrey's yard Tuesday evening, fell and fractured his arm below the wrist.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

A Cover Crop.

We do not like to see land remain bare during the fall and winter. There are stronger reasons this year than ever why soil should be covered with some growing crop, even though it be late sown rye. Of course all hilly land is better for a cover crop, since it prevents washing, but the chief reason why some living crop should occupy the land is that during the fall a great loss of nitrates occurs. The humus or vegetable matter in the soil furnishes organic nitrogen. This is usually not put into such a form that plants can use it until the hot weather at the end of an ordinary summer. Then it is made over into nitrates rapidly. These nitrates are soluble in water and are easily washed out of the soil by surface washing or by drainage water. If some thriving crop like rye, clover or turnips follows corn or potatoes the greater part of the nitrates will feed them and thus be saved. Even weeds are useful to follow a crop, since they hold the nitrates, but of course it means much better farming to follow one farm crop with another. This year the weather has been so cold and wet that the nitrates have not been formed as usual. Should there be warm weather in October this most valuable form of nitrogen will be rapidly formed and lost if the ground is bare. It is therefore good practice to sow rye or vetch after the corn is cut.—Rural New Yorker.

Concerning Corn.

With a crop of corn 500,000,000 bushels less than that of last year in prospect many people are jumping to the conclusion that prices for that grain will be proportionately higher than they are now. Therefore they reason this will be a better year to sell corn than to feed it. Corn may be higher than it is now, for the crop is not so safe, but the effect of the lessened yield has already been discounted in market as shown by the present high price level. Furthermore, it is very likely that much less corn will be needed than last year. Not so much stock will be fed, nor will so much of the crop be devoted to replenishing the reserves which were practically exhausted when the last crop was harvested. Under these conditions unless there is great damage to the crop by early frost it is well not to expect too much of corn prices.—Stockman and

FIND VEIN OF COAL.

A seven-foot vein of coal has been found at Virden by the Royal Colliery company and it is expected that the vein will run much thicker in places. A spur of railroad connecting the mine with the Burlington road, which runs about a mile to the west, has been built. The coal was struck at the depth of 300 feet.

FIRE IN A BUGGY.

Frank Phoenix and Len Wheeler, of Nortonville had an experience lately that they will not soon forget. They were riding in a buggy between Scottville and Nortonville, when one of them tried to light his pipe and the head of the match flew off and fell among some straw, which was in the bottom of the buggy, and without noticing where the first match had fallen another one was struck and before the gentlemen had time to realize it the bed of the buggy was in flames. They did their best to stamp out the fire, and although badly burned, failed to accomplish their purpose, and it became necessary to unhitch the team from the vehicle and run it into Apple creek, which was near by, and then only the running gear and wheels were left after the flames had finished their work.

Let the ladies turn out Monday and Tuesday and attend the grand fall millinery opening at Herman's, Jacksonville's foremost and enterprising milliner.

AT THE GRAND.

"A Little Outcast," which is in its second season, is the most conspicuous sensation, dramatically, of the hour. It is a stirring and coherent romantic play in four acts and seven great scenes, and it is played by a great cast. In "Bob" Miss Anne Blanche has a role which serves as a fitting vehicle for the most artistic and elusive attributes of her methods. While Franklin Roberts, as the leading man, is gaining new laurels for himself.

As to the theatrical aspects of the production, such as scenery, costumes, furniture and tapestries, a high degree of excellence has been reached, and theatre-goers will be treated to many views of magnificent stage settings.

"A Little Outcast" comes to the Grand next Monday night.

A NATURAL RESULT.

It is very reasonable to suppose if the foundation of a structure was removed that the building itself is bound to come down. This same principle can be applied to disease. Take remove the cause of sickness, and the illness leaves of itself. Dyspepsia, indigestion, sickheadache and biliousness have their foundation in stomach disorders. Remove this weakness and the other symptoms are no more. There is one cure for this that all druggists sell for 25c per box, it is called Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills. They get right at the beginning of these diseases and make the cure by taking away the cause of it. We will send a small box free by mail, or a large box on receipt of 25c. Address—Dr. Gunn, Philadelphia, Pa.

FIFTY-FIVE YEARS

DEVOTED TO THE ART OF MUSIC.

Such is the Record of Mrs. K. Smith Who is Visiting in the City — Interesting Incidents Connected With Her Life.

Mrs. Kate M. Smith, who has recently returned from an extended visit in California and the west, and who is now visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. T. D. Eames, on West State street, has had in many respects a most remarkable life. She was interviewed by a Journal representative and asked to relate some of the incidents, and they will be of interest, not only as showing what can be accomplished by earnestness of purpose, but also will serve to recall many circumstances that have had to do with this and other communities.

Mrs. Smith, during her three-quarters of a century of life, has devoted herself almost entirely to the art of music. She graduated from the first class of the Jacksonville Female academy in 1845, and for a few years was a teacher of mathematics at her alma mater. After four years in this work she commenced her career as a music teacher in this city, and for fifty-five years she has continued in this profession, and is to day at the head of a large music class in Citronelle and Mobile, Ala. Her musical education was completed in New York city, where she studied under some of the greatest musicians of the country and received the benefit of their inspiration and masterful instruction, which has served her to good purpose during these many years.

Her maiden name was "Murdoch," and many of the older citizens of Jacksonville will remember the Grier-Murdoch band, an organization that flourished here before the war, and was the first musical organization of its kind ever organized in this city. There were twelve members of this organization, Mrs. Smith being the only lady member, and serving as accompanist and piano soloist. Among the members of this organization many will recall the late Messrs. Erastus Jones, Patterson and Burdett. Gen. B. H. Grier was the leader of this organization and under his direction they gave annual concerts, and for many years furnished the music for all the commencement exercises.

In 1856 Mrs. Smith was married to James Smith, of Cincinnati, a musician of ability and also a composer of some note. They resided for four or five years in New York city, but the beginning of the civil war found them in Alabama, where Mr. Smith was at the head of the Vernal academy, with Mrs. Smith assisting him as a member of the faculty of that school.

The many and varied experiences through which they passed during this turbulent period are too numerous to admit of recount, but the determination of Mr. and Mrs. Smith can be seen from the fact that this school was the only one in southern Alabama and Mississippi that was not suspended during the war. The doors of the school were never closed during this time, but for three days they were without pupils owing to the terror-stricken condition of the inhabitants, due to Donaldson's raid. Their sympathy with the northern cause caused them to live in constant fear, and many were the dire threats of vengeance made against them by the bitter partisans of the south.

After the war Mr. and Mrs. Smith removed to Kansas, where they continued their school work and also conducted a small farm. It was their misfortune to be in Kansas at the time of the grasshopper pest. The devastation wrought at this time is too well known to need recapitulation, but resulted in the complete devastation of the crop, fruit trees and practically every bit of herbage where they made their appearance. The citizens of the state were rendered penniless by the dreadful visitation, and Mr. and Mrs. Smith fared no better than the rest.

In 1875 Mrs. Smith was engaged as a teacher of music at the Illinois Female college, being the first lady to teach music in that institution, and here she remained for a number of years, and afterward conducted a private music studio where she met with eminent success.

In 1887 Mr. and Mrs. Smith removed to Citronelle, Ala., and this place has since been their home, and largely through her this popular winter resort has become known to numbers of Jacksonville people, who annually spend a portion of the winter in that delightful suburb of Mobile. During these years as a music teacher Mrs. Smith has given instruction to hundreds, and many of them have become talented and brilliant musicians, who are proud to state that they received their first instruction and encouragement from her and caught that inspiration from her that can only come from one who is a true artist herself, an inspiration that is essential to future success.

Mrs. Smith to day can number among her pupils residents all over the country, from New York in the east to California in the west; in China, Japan and the Hawaiian islands. As a teacher of music Mrs. Smith's ability is not confined to the piano and voice, but she has given instructions on the guitar, violin, banjo and flute, and only a few years ago refused a flattering offer to direct and instruct a brass band.

Last May Mrs. Smith went to California to be present at the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, and while there was the guest for over a month at the home of one of her former pupils. She left Chicago May 13 on a train of three sections bearing 999 pilgrims to this gathering. The trip was a delightful one, and on the way a stop was made Sunday at Salt Lake City, where those who so desired had an opportunity of attending the special exercises held at the Mormon tabernacle in honor of the visitors. The hallelujah chorus of 200 voices, superbly trained, supported by an organ of 6,000 pipes that had lately been remodeled at a cost of $10,000, was indeed a grand treat for a musician. The man who built the organ, it is said, never built one before and has never constructed one since, and the gentleman who plays it is said to have never taken a music lesson in his life; yet he plays in a most miraculous manner. After the exercises of the chorus an organ concert, lasting half an hour, was given and was concluded with the ever popular "Home, Sweet Home," played with variations, while the audience sat enthralled. While in Los Angeles at the session of the assembly Mrs. Smith, who had ever been actively identified with the Presbyterian church and with missionary efforts, had the rare opportunity and pleasure in one day to listen to fourteen returned lady missionaries, representing the missionary fields of the South Sea Islands, India, Japan, China and Southern Africa.

Mrs. Smith will remain in Jacksonville for several weeks as the guest of her sister, but will return about the middle of October to continue her musicwork with a large class of pupils in Citronelle and Mobile. It has been Mrs. Smith's good fortune to enjoy almost perfect health, and this fact, coupled with her indomitable will and energy, has enabled her to override obstacles and accomplish purposes that those less favored would shrink from, and it can indeed be said that she has had a most successful life experience that is most gratifying to herself and to her friends, and that it is hoped may long continue.

PIANO RECITAL

Given at the College of Music

By Miss Higby, Assisted By Miss Kreider.

The first music recital of the year was given by the College of Music in the chapel of the Woman's college Friday evening at 8 o'clock. It was a piano recital by Miss Pearl Cora Higby, one of the new teachers of the musical faculty of the college, assisted by Miss Phoebe Jefferson Kreider, teacher of voice.

The program was a well selected one and the varied numbers served to display Miss Higby's ability to fine advantage. She is, indeed, a brilliant performer and her interpretation was highly artistic. Her Chopin number was especially enjoyed and was well rendered. The McDowell number was also played with fine musical taste and expression. She has a splendid technique and excels equally well in the fortissimo and pianissimo work while her scales, arpeggios, octaves and trills are truly and accurately executed. It can, indeed, be said of Miss Higby that she is a pianist of unusual merit.

Miss Kreider is always heard with delight and her aria from Carmen was most beautifully sung, while her facility of execution, intonation and phrasing was truly grand. As an encore after her second number, Miss Kreider sang a dainty little song in English, which was warmly received. Her volume and distinct enunciation, combined with other strong qualities, makes her voice one of unusual richness.

The program was given before a large and highly appreciative audience and was as follows:

PROGRAM.
Valse, Op. 1 ..... Sapelnikoff
Impromptu, Op. 90, No. 3 ..... Schubert
Aria of Micaela ("Carmen") ..... Bizet

TO STUDY CONGESTION.

The congested condition of the railroad yards at East St. Louis have reached the point where the general managers have decided that they must do something. A committee has been appointed to investigate the trouble and if possible to suggest a remedy. C. M. Levey, manager of the Missouri lines of the Burlington; S. M. Felton, president of the C. & A.; I. G. Rawn, superintendent of transportation of the I. C., and C. E. Schaff, general manager of the Big Four, are the members of that committee. They began their investigations Thursday. There is no expectation that they will give their decision in a hurry. The managers have studied the problem at some distance and there has not yet been any feasible plan produced for the relief of the trouble.

FELL FROM WINDOW.

Charles Stringham, a lad who is employed at Floeth's dry goods store, fell from a second story window Friday afternoon. He was at work washing a window, when he lost his balance and fell to the ground. Luckily he struck a wire, which broke the fall largely and saved him from serious injury. One ankle was sprained and it will be some time before he is able to walk. Dr. Cochrane attended him.

CONDENSED STORIES.

A Lawyer Squelched by a Nation For a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

"When I was a boy," remarked T. E. Ryan of Waukesha as he caught sight of some old patriarchy who sent him into the retrospective mood, "I went into the circuit court room in Madison, where George B. Smith and I. S. Sloan, two of the greatest lawyers of their day, were trying a case as opponents. Mr. Sloan had a habit of puncturing his address to the court with the expression, 'Your honor, I have an idea.' The case had been dragging its weary length through the hours of a warm summer day, when Mr. Sloan said:

"Your honor, I have an idea—'Mr. Smith sprang to his feet, assumed a dignified position and with all solemnity imaginable said: 'May it please the court, I move that a writ of habeas corpus be issued by this court immediately to take the learned gentleman's idea out of solitary confinement.' 'The judge smiled, the lawyers laughed, the spectators burst forth in a round of applause, and Mr. Sloan was effectively squelched.' Milwaukee Sentinel.

A Thirsty Party.

Bishop Coleman of Delaware takes a long walking trip every summer. Usually he goes alone, but on one occasion several gentlemen accompanied him.

On an August afternoon they stopped, very warm and thirsty, at a farmhouse and bought several quarts of milk. This did not assuage their thirst; therefore they bought more milk. Even now, though, they were unsatisfied, so the farmer's wife fetched from the spring house no less than three gallons of milk in a pail. Setting this before them, she said:

"ONE WOULD THINK, GENTLEMEN, THAT YOU HAD NEVER BEEN WEANED."

"One would think, gentlemen, that you had never been weaned."

The Promise of Youth.

When R. K. Munkittrick, the editor of Judge, was at school he did not pay the strictest attention to his studies. It was a boy named McFadden that always stood highest in the class, and one day the teacher sarcastically remarked that these boys would grow up and become bankers. "But," said he, "McFadden will be the president of a national bank and Munkittrick will be at the head of a sand bank."

Not long ago a friend of the acrobat of joke and jingle told the latter he had mentioned his name to a companion down at Coney Island and that a stranger volunteered the information that he once went to school with him.

"Ask him if he remembers McFadden up at the Astoria school," said the stranger.

"And what was he driving at?" asked Munkittrick anxiously. "Did he say?"

"He didn't have to," replied the informant, "as he was the waiter who brought me the beer."—New York Times.

Bismarck and Beaconsfield.

In his biographical sketches Mr. Bryce repeats a remark attributed to Bismarck at the congress of Berlin, who is reported to have said of Lord Beaconsfield, "Der alte Jude, das ist der Mann!" ("The old Jew, he's the man!") says the London Chronicle. This is the first time one has heard of that mot, and it is doubtful whether Bismarck ever gave utterance to it. But what is authentic and certain is that at one of his parliamentary soirees, when asked whom he considered to have been the ablest plenipotentiary at the congress, the chancellor replied, after a little reflection, "I don't know about the ablest, but certain at least the second ablest was Lord Beaconsfield." The prince's interrogator inferred that he had made mental reservation of the first place at the congress for himself.

FOR THE CHILDREN

Her Kindness Rewarded.

There is a little story told in the nurseries of the waterland about a small Gretchen who went to see the great army reviewed by the emperor. Because she was such a little girl a seat was given to her, though thousands were standing all around. Presently, when the interest was at its height, she noticed a feeble old woman pressing forward, trying to get a glimpse of the grand spectacle. Then little Gretchen offered the old woman her seat, which was high enough for her to see over the tops of the standing people, and moved off among the waiting crowd herself. In a minute or two a man whose uniform was all covered with gold lace made his way toward her and touched her on the shoulder, saying:

"Little girl, her majesty would be pleased to see you in her royal box."

"When at last, very much abashed, she stood before the beautiful empress the child could hardly believe her ears when she heard the great lady say:

"I saw you give up your seat to that poor old woman, and now your place shall be by me during the rest of the parade."

"You don't know but the empress is looking," is now said to little girls who are not always quick to jump up and give their elders a comfortable seat, and it nearly always has the desired effect, for there is hardly a boy or girl in the whole German country who does not know the story of Gretchen who sat by the empress.

A Pretty Experiment.

Here is a little feat that any boy can perform, and yet it looks like a trick of a magician. If you wish to entertain a company with it tell them that you have a bottle and a goblet, both full to the brim of water, and that you are going to empty the goblet by means of the bottle without taking a drop of water from the latter.

This is the way to prepare for it. With a redhot wire bore two holes through a cork and into them insert two straws, one of them extending above the cork as high as the goblet is deep, the other about twice as high.

Now, with a little kneaded bread or wax close the upper end of the shorter straw and then force the cork into the mouth of the bottle until the water spurts out through the longer straw. Meanwhile you have the goblet of water on the table near you and also a basin or bowl and a pair of scissors. Hold the goblet over the basin with your left hand, and with your right turn the bottle upside down, putting the shorter straw inside the goblet. As you do this have some one take the scissors and cut off the closed end of the shorter straw. Water will at once begin to run out of the longer straw into the basin and will continue to run until the goblet is empty. You must, of course, hold the bottle so that the shorter straw will reach down to the bottom of the goblet.

This is simply the operation of a siphon.

Things You Never Hear.

A boy who swims may say he's a swimmer, but milk is skimmed and seldom skum, and nalls you trim—they are not trum.

When words you speak, those words are spoken, but a nose is twenaked and can't be twoken, and what you seek is never soken.

If we forget, then we've forgotten, but things we wet are never wotten, and houses let cannot be lotten.

The goods one sells are always sold, but fears dispelled are not dispeled nor what you smell is ever smoled.

When young a top you oft saw spun, but did you see a grin e'er grin or a potato neatly skun?

The "Life Plant."

There is a creeping moss found in Jamaica, in Barbados and other islands of the West Indies which is called the "life tree," or, more properly, the "life plant." Its powers of vitality are said to be beyond those of any other plant. It is absolutely indestructible by any means except immersion in boiling water or application of a redhot iron. It may be cut up and divided in any manner, and the smallest shreds will throw out roots, grow and form buds. The leaves of this extraordinary plant have been placed in a closed jar tight dark box without moisture of any sort, and still they grew.

He Knew the Reason Why.

Parent—Johnny, can you tell me why the little hand on my watch goes faster than the big one?

Johnny (after reflection)—Father, ain't it just like why I have to run when I go for a walk with you?—Chums.

Was He Duty.

"I think the man in the moon must be sick," said small Johnny one dark night.

"Why do you think so?" asked sister. "Because," answered the youthful observer, "he didn't light up tonight."

A Well Informed Boy.

A professor asked a small boy in the history class, "In what battle did Jackson die?"

After a few minutes' reflection he replied, "In his last one, I think."

Quiet Days.

In the garden in the twilight,
When the dusk begins to fall,
Dot and I are indoors, hunting,
Crawling close beside the wall,
And the fireflies are the prisoners!
Dot behind me holds the jar
Where the tiny insects are stored,
Shine like many a little star.

But when winter steals the flowers,
Chilling them to ice and snow,
And the lamp is lighted early,
Jingle hunting them we go,
Peeking into darkness corners,
Listening often on the stairs,
For the tiny creatures' noisy
Tumult in catching bees.
—Elizabeth Fuller in St. Nicholas.

Here is a little feat that any boy can perform and yet it looks like a trick of a magician. If you wish to entertain a company with it, tell them that you have a bottle and a goblet, both full to the brim of water, and that you are going to empty the goblet by means of the bottle without taking a drop of water from the latter.

This is the way to prepare for it: With a redhot wire bore two holes through a cork and into them insert two straws, one of them extending above the cork as high as the goblet is deep, the other about twice as high.

Now, with a little kneaded bread or wax close the upper end of the shorter straw and then force the cork into the mouth of the bottle until the water spurts out through the longer straw.

Meanwhile you have the goblet of water on the table near you and also a basin or bowl and a pair of scissors. Hold the goblet over the basin with your left hand and with your right hand turn the bottle upside down, putting the shorter straw inside the goblet. As you do this have some one take the scissors and cut off the closed end of the shorter straw. Water will at once begin to run out of the longer straw into the basin and will continue to run until the goblet is empty. You must, of course, hold the bottle so that the shorter straw will reach down to the bottom of the goblet.

This is simply the operation of a siphon.

Curious Habits of Spiders.

The water spider carries air down with it when it dives. Dr. McCook saw one remain forty-five minutes under the water.

One water spider builds a nest under the water attached to the stem of some plant and in the shape of a diving bell, with the opening downward. It fills this bell with air by taking down a bubble at a time. Coming to the surface, it incloses an air bubble under its body and instantly descends. Getting under the nest, the bubble is allowed to escape into it, and this process continues until the nest is full of air. The spider then lays its eggs there, inclosed in a cocoon, and leaves them for the young to grow in this under water palace, safe from all flying foes.

When these water spiders are seen under water they look like balls of shining silver. Little bubbles of air seem to cling among the hairs of their bodies. As spiders, like insects, breathe the air at little holes along the whole length of the body, they can easily make use of these bubbles of air for breathing.

Irrigation For Onions.

An expert of the irrigation investigations division of the United States department of agriculture, in discussing the crops in ordinary districts that can be greatly benefited by small and inexpensive systems of irrigation, instances the case of onions grown in the south of Georgia. In that district, when there are opportune rains in May and June to mature the crop, the average yield is about 800 bushels of onions per acre, worth $1 a bushel. During May and June the necessary rains did not come, and complete loss of crop followed, the plants withering away in the dry and scorching heat. One good irrigation each year would have saved the crop and made the returns maximum in quantity and irreproachable in quality.—American Cultivator.

High Grain Prices Predicted.

It is highly probable that grain of all kinds will reach record breaking prices this year. High authorities in the grain market confidently predict dollar wheat at an early date. The wheat crop is short and the quality good. This will render corn comparatively easy. However, high prices are certain on the merits of the markets, but the speculators will not get in their work until after harvesting and marketing the crop, for it is not contemplated that the farmers shall participate in the rise. All other grains are in condition to reach high prices as soon as the farmers market the crops.—Farm and Ranch.

Fun in the Garret.

We're having a lovely time today! We're all of us up in the garret at play! We have three bottles under the eaves—Not real, you know, but make believe. Two we live in, and one is a store. Where a little old screen makes a truly door.

Warren keeps store, and Joe is his clerk. And Betty and I stay at home and work. Joe comes around and knocks or rings. And we order potatoes and steak and things. And sometimes we go to the store and buy. Or send the children for ribbons or pie. It's lots of fun, just try it some day. When it rains too hard to go out and play.
—Emma C. Dowd in Youth's Companion.

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

The Information Contained in this Citizen's Statement is Invaluable to Jacksonville People.

When a resident of Jacksonville, whose statement appears below who has no monetary or other interest in the article which he endorses who is anxious to do his acquaintances and fellow residents a good turn, who publishes in this paper his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills—that citizen must have good and sufficient reason for doing so. The following should dispel any doubts which may have existed in the reader's mind on this subject:

"John Minter, of 425 South East street, formerly overseer of the poor for Morgan county, says: 'I had eczema on my limbs and although I used numerous remedies prescribed for me, I did not get anything that proved effectual. My attention was called to Doan's Ointment as a specific for all irritation of the skin. Now that was just what I wanted, and I made up my mind to give it a trial. I procured a box at Dr. H. Lee Reetz's drug store and began using it. It certainly proved to be a grand remedy, soothing and healing the irritation almost at once.'"

"For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Doan's Kidney Pills, N. Y. sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other."

READ THIS.

Jacksonville, Ill., Sept. 25, 1902.—Nearly three years ago, with a second attack of serious illness, I was surprised to learn that I had diabetes. Providentially I was led to procure a bottle of Dr. E. W. Hall's Specific for Kidney and Bladder Troubles, known as A TEXAS WONDER. Less than half of the $1 bottle effected a complete and permanent cure. Consequently I believe it to be a medicine of very great value. L. B. Kent, Evangelist.

OMNIBUS.

(By Association Press.)

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Wheat—At the opening there was good buying by local shorts, with some demand for long account on strong outside markets and steady cables.

December was up  $\frac{1}{16}$  to  $\frac{1}{8}$  at 70 $\frac{1}{2}$  to 71 $\frac{1}{2}$ , soon advanced to 72 $\frac{1}{2}$ , with marked bullish sentiment. After holding steady at advance for a time the market gradually eased off on resumption of liquidation due to favorable aspect of the strike situation in Minneapolis, fear of reports from abroad and lack of outside supporting orders. Long wheat came out on stop orders and weakness that developed carried December down to 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ , before mood changed on good export business. Close with steady, with loss entirely regained, final for December showing gain of  $\frac{1}{16}$  over yesterday. Liverpool steady to id lower. On coast thirty boat loads taken.

Corn—There was a good trade and firmer feeling, the feature being the general covering by shorts. Final figures were  $\frac{1}{16}$  above those of yesterday. Provision interests were quite prominent on buying side. Wheat was stronger, the country acceptance light, cash, with demand from seaboard more urgent, with sales over a million bushels and damage reports from west more numerous, all of which tended to impart a better tone to the market. The market broke with wheat and Wall street, but recovered toward the close of the day. Liverpool  $\frac{1}{16}$  to  $\frac{1}{8}$  lower. Seaboard reported fifty boat loads accepted.

Oats—Oats were active and  $\frac{1}{16}$  to  $\frac{1}{8}$  lower during the morning, but reacted and closed  $\frac{1}{16}$  higher for September,  $\frac{1}{8}$  higher for December, but  $\frac{1}{16}$  lower for May. The break was on general liquidation by outside holders and sympathy of other grains. The rally was on support from local interests and with wheat and corn.

Beef—Beef, bbl. 20.00 12.00

Wheat, bus. 14.00 2.00

Corn, bus. 47.00 49.00

Oats, bus. 17.00 23.00

Cattle—To day's supply which was large for Friday, were mostly common to good natives and ordinary rangers. Demand was just moderate at barely steady prices. ### THE MATRIMONIAL RECORD.

STIER-SCHULENBERG.

A nuptial event of more than ordinary interest was solemnized Thursday evening at the German Lutheran church on East College street, when Miss Christina Schulerberg became the bride of Charles Stier.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edwin Beck, pastor of the church, in the presence of a large assemblage of guests.

The wedding party entered the church promptly at 8 o'clock to the strains of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, skillfully played by Mrs. Robert Stier. Miss Mary Tiemeyer and Frederick Schulerberg were the attendants.

The marriage service was simple, but impressive and was spoken in a most happy manner.

The recessional was to the strains of the wedding march by Mendelssohn.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white silk mull, with lace applique and made entourage. She wore a tulle veil with orange blossoms and carried bride's roses. The bridesmaid was attired in a creation of white and she carried a bouquet of asters.

After the ceremony the wedding party and invited guests went to the home of the bride's mother on North Main street, where a reception was held and an elegant wedding supper served.

Many handsome gifts were received, which evidenced the hosts of friends it is the pleasure of both bride and groom to have.

Mr. and Mrs. Stier are both young people of strength of character and purpose and begin life very auspiciously. It is certainly to be hoped that the fond anticipations of the many friends for their happiness and prosperity may be realized.

Mr. Stier is a carpenter and enjoys the esteem and respect of his fellow workmen.

Washington, Sept. 26.—General orders were issued to day by commander-in-chief Dyerforth, calling the convention of the Union Veterans' Union to meet at Louisville, Oct. 14.

TOOK STRYCHNINE.

Worn at Crescent Hotel Registered as Mrs. Halliday, Attempts Suicide—Mystery Surrounds the Case.

On the register at the Crescent hotel, under date of Tuesday, Sept. 22, appears the name, "Mrs. Halliday, East St. Louis." The person thus signing her name came to the Crescent about half an hour before noon on Tuesday and said to the lady at the desk that she was tired and would like a room for a few hours. She was assigned to a room and later in the day said she would stay in the city several days.

Friday night about 7 o'clock noises, such as would be made by one in great agony, were heard in this room and the porter, Sam Reed, went to the room, but the door was locked and it was necessary to break the lock in order to effect an entrance, the woman, meanwhile, yelling "murder." Upon entering the room the woman was found lying across the bed in a convulsion, while on the table near by was found an eighth of an ounce bottle of sulphate of strychnine, which had been emptied of its contents; also on the same table was a paper of arsenic poison, which had not been touched, and also another paper lying open, which had contained some sort of white powdered drug. Doctors Hargrove, Day, Potts and King were summoned and everything possible was done to relieve the woman's suffering. Doctors Day and Potts continuing with the patient for many hours. Very little change was noticed in her condition up until 12 o'clock, and her chances for recovery are very slim.

The actions of this woman about the hotel since her arrival had been very peculiar. She talked to no one and had remained closely to her room, now and then going for a walk on the streets, but during her entire stay here she has apparently had no friends and cared to talk to no one.

That her decree of suicide was deliberately planned seems to be well borne out by the fact that the first vestige of identification is yet to be found. No words spoken, no letters or papers, none of her effects or any of her clothing bear the first vestige of a mark that could possibly indicate who she was or where she had come from. She had in her room a Springfield State-Register, dated Sept. 20, which she had obtained some where. She brought with her no grip or baggage of any kind and her clothing consisted of the red wrapper, which she had on when she took the poison, and a dark blue etamine dress, newly made and one of late design and a white shirt waist. There was no mark on any of her clothing, her undergarments being new, just off the store shelves. She surely had some object in view in cutting off every possible means of finding out her identity.

She had in her possession a white silk belt, a chatelaine purse in which were $4.50 in silver, a gold lead pencil a pair of eye glasses with long gold chain attached, a trunk key, a stick pin and a heavy penknife; also a raffle ticket, No. 807.

There was pinned on her jacket a small chatelaine watch, with gold hands and fancy dial, Swiss movement.

The only possible clue obtained was one of her finger rings, which, if the proper person could be found, would furnish a means of identifying her. She had on the third finger of her left hand three rings, and one of these was a large gold band ring, having embossed upon the outside of it the emblems of the Ladies of the Maccabee lodge, and upon the inside was inscribed "M. to Esther." She also had a Maccabees pin, which she had used to pin the neck of the wrapper she had on at the time of taking the poison. The setting in one of the rings was a small moonstone and the other was a turquoise, with six pearls set about it.

The back of her hands were freckled and on her right hand was a long scar, running from the base of the thumb to the wrist, apparently of many years standing.

She was a young lady apparently about 27 years of age, five feet and four inches in height, weighing about 130 pounds. She has a heavy head of light brown hair and blue grey eyes. In her face was a careworn expression, though her features were symmetrical.

She told one of the girls at the hotel Thursday that she was expecting her husband in a few days and the sad feature in this case is the fact that she was soon to have become a mother. Should she die from the effects of the poisoning there will be no one to notify, unless by chance some part of her description shall be read by one who knows her.

WILL PLAY WINCHESTER.

The foot ball team of Illinois college will go to Winchester this morning for a practice game with the Winchester Athletic club. Manager Wylder will take about twenty men in order not to work the men too hard the first game. Yesterday an extra large number were out for practice and it is expected a number of splendid men will be found in the large freshman class. Goebel, of last year's team, was out with the boys Thursday giving a few fine points on the game. From present indications Illinois will have one of the greatest teams the college has produced.

"Clothes Don't Make the Man"

WELL, perhaps not altogether, but they frequently go a long way towards it. Haven't you noticed how much better you have felt when well dressed, when you had on a good looking, well fitting suit; how much better able to face the world as a man; in other words, how much more manly you felt?

It is always so; you can approach a man on business with far more assurance, and you will make a stronger impression on him when you are correctly dressed. Many a man has begun his upward career in business with a smart suit of clothes, and if you buy the right kind, they don't really cost so much.
